WHY AT COIMBATORE

- Coimbatore is a key node in the Tamil Nadu Defence Industrial Corridor (TNDIC), inaugurated in 2019 to boost domestic Defence manufacturing.
- A 350-acre dedicated Aerospace and Defence park is being developed at Varapatti by the end of 2025, specializing in aero components, semiconductors, and precision engineering, with major participation from companies like L&T, LMW, and Roots..
- Key Players & Ecosystem: Major industries present include L&T Aerospace and Missile division, Lakshmi Machine Works (LMW), Roots, and UTC Aerospace. TIDCO is developing a common engineering facility center focused on Robotics, Aerodesign, and Testing.
- Coimbatore's Strategic Advantage: Coimbatore is frequently referred to as the city of entrepreneurs, with a robust ecosystem in engineering, manufacturing, and casting.
- Its existing strengths in high-precision engineering provide a foundation for producing Defence and aerospace components, making it a critical component of the overall ₹75,000 crore investment goal for the Tamil Nadu corridor by 2032.
- MSME Sector: As of August 2024, Coimbatore has 323,000+ MSMEs, making it the second-largest MSME district
- 829 Software companies operating in Coimbatore.
- Over 25,000 (MSME & Large scale)
- INTERNATIONAL AIR CONNECTIVITY
- Proximity to Kerala, Karnataka, Andhra, Telengana states
- SEZ, Electronic, Pumps and Motors, Engineering Industries
